WHY ARE SO MANY BUSINESSES GETTING MURALS?

Businesses in both low and high traffic locations that get murals report an immediate boost in the number of customers walking through the door, and improved customer loyalty.

Murals create that sense of welcome and engagement, and remind employees of a company's mission. More and more businesses are recognizing that the way to set their business apart is to create a visual fingerprint of their business that offers an experience. Murals are the trending way to reach populations of all ages to inspire and remind them of what matters most.
